This zine contains sketches related to my project Sakhalinsky. It is a story set in nineteenth century Siberia and focuses on a man named Nikita. Nikita murdered a man, something he deeply regrets, and my story follows his in exile. Through him I show what exile life is like on the Russian prison island of Sakhalin and introduce a variety of other characters who live and work on the island. Hoping to synthesize all of these thoughts into a comic, but this is what I have for now.

Nikita my friend, it seems
you've forgotten
how to stand

Godiva - Nikita's convict friend and an Old Believer (Orthodox Christian
Heretic)

Godya if
you shaved
them.
Shaved sheep

Dmitri
government
Official who Works with Nikita ☺

Nikita you
didn't tell me
my hair is
a wreck

it literally
always looks
like that

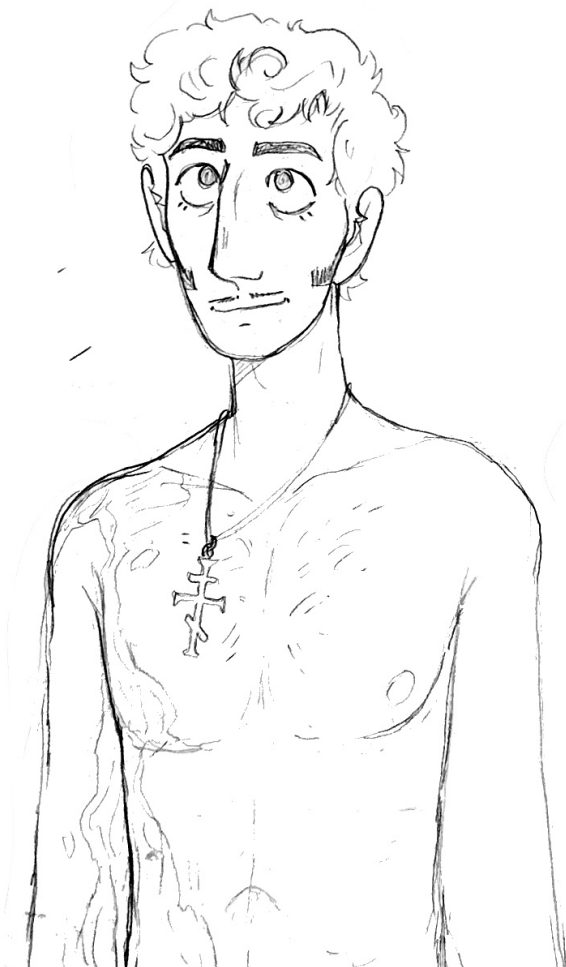

Can you tailor
my coat to be
shinnier at the waist? I need
people to see
that I am thin
and beautiful
and young

eh heh~

Nikita.
If Vasily finds
out I do this shit, I will have to kill
myself

I Could
mend this
for you

I - uh -
you don't have to do that

Don't worry
Sveta, I'm Sure Nikita
here would
looove to help
you with that
while were
gone

I would?

Vasily can you
be a decent
human being just
once in your life?

Vasily

How
could you
have possibly
become
more stupid
since last
I saw
you?

You little
shit—
When
the Hell
did you get
so tall?

Vasily is Dmitri's
younger
brother

Heh~

Danilo - a
less friendly
government
official

It Seems
foolish to let murderers keep watch over our records on other
murderers
